Colored Man Severely Burned.
Parker Mitchell, a colored man employed by the Virginia Passenger and Power Company, was severely burned to-day while fixing electric wires on a pole at the corner of Third and River streets. His left hand got caught in the wire, and the flesh was burned to the bone before he could be relieved. The shock and pain were so great that he fell from the pole, and the unfortunate man was strapped to the pole, he would have fallen and probably been killed. He was rescued in an unconscious condition. The company promptly sent him to the hospital for treatment, and it may be a month before he can work again.
Revels are in progress at the three largest Baptist churches in the city, also at the Christian Church, and some of the colored churches. Revels have just been ended at several of the Methodist churches, and many conversions have been reported.

MONUMENT STANDS ON "BLOODY ANGLE"

Shaft Completed and Will Be Dedicated to Memory of New Jersey Troops.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] SPOTSVYLVANIA, Va., April 22.—The memorial shaft to be dedicated on May 12 to the memory of those of the Fifteenth Regiment, New Jersey Volunteers, who fell, were wounded or taken prisoners on the "Bloody Angle" battlefield of Spotsylvania on May 13, 1862, has been completed, and stands about sixty feet east of the monument dedicated five years ago to the Fort-ninth New York Volunteers, who were in the same encounter. This monument is erected by the State of New Jersey and occupies a conspicuous spot on this picturesque battlefield. It consists of a beautifully carved granite slab, nine feet high and four feet wide, mounted on a solid granite pedestal two and a half feet high. On the slab is the pedestal statue of a private soldier with musket at "arms rest" position. The front of the monument has the following inscription:
"1861-1865.
"Fifteenth Regiment, New Jersey Volunteers.
"Erected by the State of New Jersey to mark that portion of the Confederate line held by the Fourteenth Georgia Regiment, defeated May "12, 1862, by the Fifteenth Regiment, "New Jersey Volunteer Infantry, commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel Edward K. Campbell. Men engaged, 423; "loss, 116 killed, 159 wounded, 23 mis"sing."
On the opposite side is the following inscription:
"Commissioners appointed by Governor John Franklin Fort, viz., Hon. John F. Dryden, chairman; Sergeant William H. Wyckoff, treasurer; Private Stephen W. Gordon, secretary; Sergeant William H. Crawley, General Joseph W.
Plume, Private Albert W. Whiteland, Private John S. Gibson and Private Henry W. Hoffman."
The monument was designed and built in Red Bank, New Jersey. The granite is from New Hampshire. The cost of the shaft is $10,000. It stands on that part of the field where the fiercest fighting was, and is within seventy-five feet of the spot where the white oak tree, twenty-two inches in diameter, was cut down by minie bullets.
It is upon this field that the citizens of Spotsylvania are striving to have a joint monument built to the memory, patriotism and valor of the soldiers of both armies, who in the four great battles which were fought on Spotsylvania soil made her territory the theatre where the greatest dramas of the great Civil War were enacted.

Welcome Given.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
MARTINSVILLE, Va., April 22.—
The Virginia Division of the Travelers' Protective Association met in convention here to-day. Called to order at 12:30 o'clock by B. A. Rivers, president of Post 1, of Martinsville, who welcomed the delegates in a heartily speech on behalf of the local post. At the close of his speech Mr.
Rivers introduced Hon. J. W. Carter, Mayor of the town, who delivered the address of welcome on behalf of the town, giving a brief outline of the history of Martinsville and comparing its progress to that of the T. P. A. He declared that Martinsville had concluded that the T. P. A. was the biggest thing it could get, and committed the city in having gone after it. He spoke of many things that the T. P. A. has done, and expressed the opinion that it was the most potent influence in America to-day.
President D. L. Traynham, of South Boston, on assuming the chair, called on Rev. J. J. Gravatt, who opened the convention with prayer. Alexander J. Philadelphia, national director, was then introduced, and spoke of the benefits to be derived by the men themselves from their connection with the association. He declared that the coming national convention at Asheville would show this to be the best year the association has had.

Committees Appointed.
The following committees were appointed: J. Y. Williams, chairman; C. E. Herbert, R. W. Price, W.
H. Jones, George Gibson, J. E. H.
Crawley, D. W. Sales, E. H.
Crawley, J. T. Marshall, L. F. Carter, L. P. Roberts.
Resolutions—C. W. Saunders, W. H.
Lunsford, W. S. Richardson.
Constitution—E. R. Barksdale, A. D.
Brackett, R. H. Angell.
Auditing—John A. Mahood, A. D.
Stirling and E. M. Stribling.
After the committees had been appointed the convention adjourned till 3 o'clock. At the afternoon session the committee on rules and the committee on credentials reported, and the reports were adopted.

The report of the committee on credentials showed that the total number of delegates to which the various posts were entitled was 371. C. A.
Raine, of Danville, was appointed secretary at arms. The report of the president was read by Secretary Harwood, showing the order to be in a prosperous condition and complimentary the work done by the railroad, press and good roads departments. The report of Secretary Harwood showed that the reorganization of the posts at Newport News and Farmville and the organization of a post at Fredericksburg. The report showed that the Virginia division now had a membership of 3,500, and that there has been a gain of 22 new members during the year. Secretary Harwood stated that for the first time in six years the balance was on the wrong side of the ledger to the amount of about $150. The report showed a total of 113 claims filed, amounting to over $1,000.
In discussing the report of the secretary, C. W. Saunders, of Richmond, spoke of several extraordinary expenses which the Virginia division had had during the past year, and showed that the financial condition was not bad at all. The report was adopted.
Reports from the different posts were also read by the secretary, S. J.
Allen is chairman of the Richmond delegation, and the post is represented on the steering committee by C. Walton Saunders, George W. Rogers and E. H. Clowes.

Railroad Report.
The report of the committee on railroads showed the rates to be in a satisfactory condition from the traveler's standpoint.

The report of the press committee touched especially on the question of good roads. The report of the committee on hotels was made by Mr.
Clowes, showing that the hotels of the State are in a steadily improving condition.

The report of the committee on good roads and public utilities showed great activity in this department, and that the T. P. A. is leading in this work.

Rev. J. J. Gravatt made a brief address, expressing his pleasure at meeting the traveling men when and where-ever possible.

The report of the committee on amendments to the constitution was adopted.

The majority of the delegates arrived here this morning on a special train from Danville. The delegates are all in fine spirits and are enjoying their outing.

The members of Post 1 have been untiring in their efforts to make the stay of the delegates here a pleasant one. The Finley Hall has been fitted up as a reading and clubroom and members of the convention are making themselves at home there.

It looks now as if R. B. Semple, of Martinsville, would be unanimously elected president for the coming year.

Discussion of Banks.
The question as to where the moneys of the national association should be deposited came up to the first discussion of the day. The committee had reported in favor of depositing only in national banks and trust companies.
Joseph Stebbins, of South Boston, opposed this as an unjust discrimination against State banks. R. H. Angell, of Roanoke, was in favor of cutting out trust companies and placing the funds only in national banks.

Mr. Stebbins's contention prevailed, and the matter of the depositing of funds was left to the discretion of the national directors.

The auditing committee reported that the accounts and books of the secretary were correct.

Among the prominent delegates present are: H. Lunsford and George R.
Coleman, of Lynchburg; F. H. Angell, of Roanoke; W. E. Tribbitt, of Staunton; W. P. Richardson, J. A. Davidson, and E. R. Booker, Joseph Stebbins and J. C. Lawson of South Boston.

Big Sales Made.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
MONTEREY, Va., April 22.—Two valuable farms changed hands in High-

County Stock Farm, situated three miles south of Monterey, and operated by Sullenberger Brothers, was sold to Lee Gum, of Back Creek, the price paid being about $15,500. This is one
